

WHAT'S THE BEST PIECE OF ADVICE YOU HAVE TO GIVE?

Veteran FLi: Audrey Fry, President, The Fry Group of Companies

"I wish I knew how difficult it would be to have a career, a family, and how to prepare myself to really handle both. One you need, the other you can't afford to fail at. Try to work for a company that's sensitive to the needs of family. When you're interviewing ask beyond benefits and salary. Find out how they feel about these issues. Or, start your own business so you can slip out when you need to!"

Rookie FLi: Alia Francisco, Merchandise Associate, Holt Renfrew

"The most beneficial part of any type of growth comes after the challenge and struggle. Don't give up when the going gets tough!"

The Deal with Nylons...

Baby it's cold outside and bare legs just won't cut it. We know, nylons = tight & itchy. Pick a pair that are a shade darker than your skin tone and you experience insta-tanned legs without the UV damage. Or pick a black or patterned pair and you can get away without shaving your legs. Buy 1 size bigger to avoid bulges and runs. Try the pair with the lace waistband and gel-like skin adhesive and voila, avoid the waist bulge altogether.

Promote your business and we can support each other. Holla at us girls!

THAT DOG

Love her or hate her, Belinda Stronach is back on the forefront. Her alleged affair with Tie Domi, scandalous as it was, is now passé; the latest and greatest scandal is Foreign Affairs Minister, Peter McKay's, alleged remarks toward Stronach. When asked about his dog by a liberal MP, Peter McKay allegedly retorted "you already have her".

Whatever your stance on the situation, it's hard not to step back and recognize that there are obstacles that we face every day. "She slept her way to the top" or "Now now, you don't want to make her cry" are common slights that are too often uttered and masked as jokes around the water cooler. As women, let's ditch the cattiness (don't deny it, we've all done it) because, heck, there's enough to battle without us turning on each other. Let's celebrate the successes and achievements of other women. So, Belinda, dog or not, other woman or not, we love your shoes.
